

Fall Live-ish Concert:

- Rehearsals began on September 15 as planned. We have had 5-7 live singers and our accompanist in each rehearsal, and other singers participating at home. With the exception of some technical glitches (which are always a possibility), the rehearsals have gone well.
- We will begin recording the virtual video for the October 25 concert release this Tuesday (soprano and alto) and Saturday (tenor and bass).
- Other performers for the concert are working on their selections as well. I will arrange to video record them at a convenient time.
- Huge thanks to Jean for coordinating rehearsal space and Trent for recording space at their respective churches.

Holiday Live-ish Concert:

- As soon as we have all the video for the fall concert “in the can”, we can start rehearsing the holiday concert. I project that will be October 20, which will give us plenty of time for the December 13 concert release.

Curbside Cabaret:

- In conjunction with Jean (and with help from Trent, Phyllis and Jean) we selected music and provided practice recordings for the volunteer singers to rehearse.
- The first performance yesterday at Pocket Park in downtown Holland was excellent!
